Why choose California State University, Northridge

Our strong reputation

CSUN is a highly regarded public university with more than 30 years' experience welcoming students from around the world.

Every year, nearly 3,000 international students come to CSUN to achieve their goals and to experience life in Southern California.

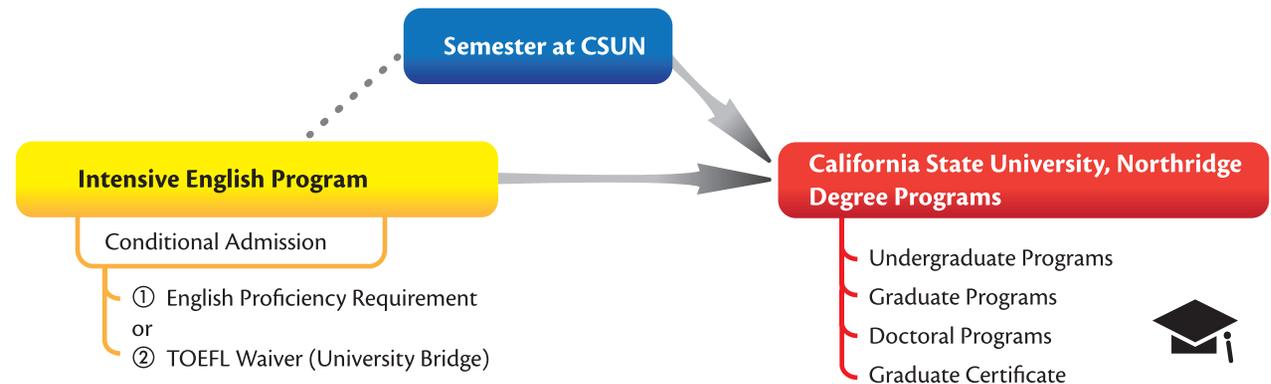

Our academic focus

We help you get ready for your next step – whether you want to pursue a degree, study English, or stay for a semester or two and return to your home country to continue your studies. With over 60 undergraduate majors, more than 50 graduate programs, and two professional doctoral degrees, we are sure to have what you are looking for.

A bridge into the university

At CSUN, you can do more than just study English. We make it easy to transition into the university. Many students who successfully complete our Intensive English Program go on to enroll as full-time university students, and earn their degrees at CSUN.

(CSUN)?

Our excellent location

CSUN is in the northern part of the City of Los Angeles. It's a wonderful place to live and to study. There's always something interesting going on. On our campus, you will find palm trees, gardens, modern architecture and places to study, swim, exercise and hang out with your fellow CSUN students. Nearby are Hollywood, Beverly Hills and Southern California's beautiful beaches.

English-language skills for academic success

Intensive English Program

This year-round, academic, on-campus program offers eight-week, 16-week, and 24-week courses. It is designed to help you acquire the English-language skills needed for university-level coursework – undergraduate or graduate. Our academic focus will also help you to develop skills in public speaking, presentation, academic research and writing.

As a student in the IEP program, you will enjoy the following:

- small classes (typically 15-20 students) taught by expert instructors,
- free after-class tutoring and activities, and
- the opportunity to take courses at CSUN for university credit.

We offer classes for all levels

All students take a placement exam and are placed in a level of instruction based on the exam result.

Foundation (Beginning) – builds basic English-language skills

Academic Skills (Intermediate) – develops core skills for university-study preparation

University Bridge (Advanced) – prepares students to transition from the IEP to the university. This instruction is also appropriate for those who seek a TOEFL waiver.

Your options for university study at CSUN

- Conditional admission with IEP

You may earn pre-approval for admission to undergraduate and graduate degree programs once you have achieved the required English-language proficiency score or obtained a TOEFL waiver.

- Semester at CSUN (SAC)

Spend one or two semesters with us. (see page 4)

I found friends who love to travel and explore the world. Definitely, we speak English all the time and that contributes to helping us speak more fluently today.

– Winai Muneeppeeraku (Thailand)

I came to IEP in August 2012 and successfully applied to be an undergraduate at CSUN in June 2013. IEP is not only a place to study English. We are all friends here, wherever you are from.

– Ziyang Wang (China)

Going to Universal Studios Hollywood was a unique experience for me. I loved the Studio Tour because I saw where they film and how they do it.

– Alaa Albahi (Saudi Arabia)

English Language and Cultural Experience (ELCE)

This program enables you to improve your English-language skills and to broaden your understanding of American culture. It combines classroom learning with recreational activities on and around the campus, such as pool parties, shopping, dining at local restaurants, and visits to museums and exhibitions.

ELCE is open to groups and individual students. This comprehensive program includes 15 hours per week of classroom instruction and activities on and around campus.

Your patience, tolerance and hospitality made it a fantastic stay for me and my five colleagues...we met with inspiring people who have outstanding achievements in their field.

– Fujian Zhu (China)

We are having the best times of our lives here at CSUN. The infrastructure, support and people are amazing.

– Allan Amorim (Brazil)

Communicating with American students let me know more about how to face life with passion and self-confidence.

– Kehan Yu (China)

I am so delighted to spend my time in IEP classes because they prepare me for university classes.

– Ayda Behbahanian (Iran)

Spend a semester – or two – studying alongside American students

Semester at CSUN Program (SAC)

Studying at CSUN allows you to experience life at an American university.* You may seek to study subjects that are not taught at your home university, or perhaps you wish to gain new perspectives about your field of study. By enrolling in SAC, you can complete coursework that may later be transferred to your home university (upon approval).

At CSUN, you will enjoy a great study-abroad experience. As a student in the SAC program, you will receive full support from our staff – from the moment you submit an application through the completion of your semester. We help you along the way, so you can relax and focus on your studies.

Brazilian Science Mobility Program (BSMP) students also study at CSUN through SAC.

For more information about Semester at CSUN, email sac@csun.edu.

* U.S. citizens are not eligible to apply to the SAC program.
