

EXAMINEE GUIDELINES FOR CENTRALLY ADMINISTERED, ORAL EXAMINATIONS AT THE NORWEGIAN UNIVERSITY OF LIFE SCIENCES

Established by the Committee for Course Programmes on 22 October 2003.
Revised 20.11.08

- I. Oral examination is defined as the oral evaluation of an examinee.
- II. Before taking the examination, the examinee shall be familiar with the Regulations for Examinations at the Norwegian University of Life Sciences with Supplementary Provisions and these guidelines.
- III. Examinees wishing to take examinations are themselves responsible for registering for the exam before the specified deadline, and for making sure the registration was performed correctly. Examinees who are not listed on the registration lists will be refused admission to the examination. The Department of Academic Affairs must be notified of any mistakes within a specified deadline. Examinees are themselves responsible for staying informed about the venue and the time of the examination.
- IV. The examinee must arrive at the appointed time, and shall thereafter wait in the immediate vicinity of the examination premises, or in another designated waiting room. The examinee is him/herself responsible for being present when he/she is called in for examination. Examinees who are not present when being called in for examination, are registered as absent, without a valid excuse.
